The state government has put the food safety campaign, under Tandrust Punjab Mission, on fast track by roping in another laboratory for the analysis of samples of food articles being collected during the statewide inspections.

Commissioner, Food and Drug Administration, Kahan Singh Pannu said the Punjab Biotechnology Incubator (PBTI), Mohali, has been notified as referral laboratory under the Food Safety and Standards Act by the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI).

“Availability of another lab will facilitate quicker analysis of samples followed by faster action on the defaulters,” said Pannu.
